Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1026101A1] The invention relates to method for providing an envelope (5) round a device comprising one or more platforms (3) positioned one above another, wherein a few upwardly extending, spaced-apart uprights (4) are provided near the circumference of said platform(s), along which the envelope is guided. A cloth formed in one piece is provided round the uprights, the length of which cloth corresponds approximately to the circumference of a platform, and the adjoining, upwardly extending edges of the cloth are joined together by means of a zipper (8) after provision of the cloth. <IMAGE>
