Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1026362A1] The cover comprises a frame consisting of several profile rods (4) with a therein held fabric (3), especially a metal fabric. The profile rods comprise a holding section (5) open towards the frame interior, in which the fabric is held at the edges, whereby the holding section is shaped, at least in points, in such way, that the fabric is pressed at it. An Independent claim is provided for a corresponding profile rod, and a connecting angle for respectively two profile rods.
