Abstract (en)
[origin: WO9929215A1] The invention relates to a device for burglar-proof presentation of items, comprising shackles (1) for suspending items and a main support (2) for hanging up said shackles. In the inventive device, one end of the shackles is provided with retainers for preventing removal of the items from the shackles, and the other end is provided with members for inserting the shackles in the main support for hanging them up. Said main support is provided with a lockable obstruction means (5) for preventing removal of the shackles from said support.
