Abstract (en)
[origin: DE19842578A1] The use of nucleosides and nucleobases and their derivatives (I) is claimed for reducing thrombocytopenic side effects caused by cytostatic agents. The use of nucleosides and nucleobases and their derivatives of formula (I) is claimed for reducing thrombocytopenic side effects caused by cytostatic agents. R1 = OH or NH2; R2 = H or alkyl; R3 = H, alkyl or COOH; R4 = H or optionally substituted deoxyribosyl, ribosyl or arabinosyl.
