Abstract (en)
[origin: EP1039237A2] The holder has a frame (4) for a rectangular expansion vessel (2). The frame has a support panel (1) fastened to it. The panel has guide brackets (6), which are at a relative distance corresponding to the width of the expansion vessel. A holder panel (3) with guide brackets (6) is for connection to the frame, via screws (8), locking into bores in the frame, and is positioned diagonally opposite to the support panel. At least one of the guide brackets has a flexible tongue projecting from it.
