Abstract (en)
The packaging device is curtailed in the number of parts necessary for packaging, is capable of packaging at a low processing cost, is excellent in working efficiency and protection when handling, and has cushioning function and storage strength by one part only. In this packaging device, as shown in Fig. 2, a cardboard 3 having a plurality of folding lines and cutting lines is adhered and bonded to both ends of a cardboard 1 having five sides with folding lines at overlap widths 6, 7, and combined into one flat sheet piece. <IMAGE>
