Abstract (en)

[origin: WO9940289A1] A roll-up grating has rods (1) laterally guided transversely to the opening and closing direction of displacement of the roll-up grating, and connecting members (3, 16) which interconnect the rods (1) in an articulated manner. The connecting members (3, 16) are made of a single piece and have longitudinal openings for receiving the grating rods (1) with a closed, seamless outer surface. Also disclosed is a process for producing these roll-up gratings.
