Abstract (en)
[origin: EP1055785A2] The present invention provides a multi-walled glazing panel (10) which, in use, is attached at either side thereof to a support structure (20,30,40), the multi-walled glazing panel (10) including a plurality of horizontal sheet members (11) separated from one another by vertical interconnecting walls (12), such vertical interconnecting walls (12) defining channels (13) running along the length of the multi-walled glazing panel (10) characterised in that the sides of the multi-walled glazing panel (10) that are attachable to the support structure (20,30,40) are reinforced. The present invention also provides a method of attaching a multi-walled glazing panel (10) to a support structure (20,30,40). <IMAGE>
