Abstract (en)

[origin: DE19834013A1] The invention relates to an improved door terminal comprising a housing (15) with a shaped cylinder (20), an emergency door opening button (40) and an audio alarm sensor (30). The aim of the invention is to provide an optimized user/customer -friendly arrangement of optical display elements that can be easily assembled with said door terminal. This is achieved by surrounding the emergency door opening button (40) with a display module (50) which can be closed by a covering frame (55) that is provided with integrated safety glass (56).
