Abstract (en)
[origin: EP1057935A1] The block (10) has a first pair of spacers (19,20) on two opposite sides (13), and a second pair of spacers (17,18) on the other opposite sides. Spacers within a pair of offset relative to each by one spacer width, so that their sides engage with spacers of a neighboring block. The first pair is offset relative to a line (15) cutting across the block. The second pair is offset relative to a line (16), which is offset relative to the cross line by one spacer width (b).
