Abstract (en)
[origin: EP1059239A1] The container has a suitcase type body (3) with carrying handle (17) adapted to each other so that the handle in a position (23) folded against the case body can occupy a further carrying position (28) where the handle section (26) can be seized from the side of the suitcase body to allow the option of carrying the case in a position aligned on edge. The handle section (26) is mounted telescopically on a base section of the carrying handle which is mounted for swivelling on the suitcase body to vary the distance between handling section and case body.
