Abstract (en)

A packaging (1) for liquid products equipped with a straw (5) and comprising a container (3) and a cover (4) hermetically connected to each other is disclosed, where the straw (5) is incorporated within the packaging (1), is insulated by the cover (4) from the external environment and has its lower end always immersed in the liquid product filling the container (3,13). Preferably the container (3) and the straw (5) are produced at the same time so that the container (3) constitutes a single unit with the straw (5) and the upper end (8) of the straw (5) is positioned in a groove realised in the upper edge of the container (3) and at least partially closed by a tab (9), belonging to the cover (4), to be lifted up from the groove to allow the upper end (8) of the straw (5) to protrude from the packaging (1). <IMAGE>
