Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1065339A2] The fixture device is for band lobes of hinges and involves a tension plate (5), a pressure plate (13) provided for the tension plate, and an intermediate space (22) formed by the plates. A filling piece (23) is possibly provided between the two plates and directly before installation of the fixture device (1) and the band lobes is removable from the intermediate space between the plates. The pressure plate and its two end sections (19) are fitted by means of buttresses (11) and are bendable by means of the screw connections (14) in the direction of the tension plate.
