Abstract (en)
[origin: EP1065762A1] Lug (18) comprises stamp (24) defining an oversize allowance on one of its sides, and a hole on its other side. Interconnecting elements include conductive blades such as blade comprising two elongated holes. The dimensions of the elongated holes are such that blades are attached with clearance on the free end of lug, and attached tightly around the oversize. Independent claims are also included for a timer, and for a method for connecting an electric conductor to a male electric lug.
