Abstract (en)

[origin: WO0046990A1] The invention relates to an apparatus and a method for transmitting or receiving programs. Along with the programs, additional data pertaining to the programs is transmitted or received. The additional data comprises a format descriptor and a topic descriptor, which specify respectively a format of a program, for example movie or magazine, and a topic of said program, for example sports or politics. The user is allowed to select programs in accordance with conditions upon the format descriptor and the topic descriptor.
