Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1066974A1] The roller has a data support (40) at the end, facing a reader (6). A locking pin (11) projects from the end of the roller housing to engage a recess (44) in the data support, fixing the data support relative to the housing. The roller has an elastic finger (32) that provisionally positions the data support by engaging in the recess (44) until pushed clear by the locking pin (11).
