Abstract (en)
[origin: EP1067256A2] The movable roof configuration (1) comprises a central support element (2) and a roof (3). The latter takes the form of a fabric with radial puller elements which extend from a center point to the fabric edge and beyond it, and are tightened by lines (4) provided with means (5, 6) for anchoring them to the ground. The roof fabric is additionally provided with a peripheral puller element which runs along its edge and is joined there to the roof fabric and to the radial puller elements.
