Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1067353A1] The percussion igniter for an artillery piece has a lever (4) connected to a firing pin (2) and pivoted to support (1). A catch (9) can be released by the lever. A projection arm (11) is fixed to the support to engage the lever. A drive (12) moves the catch to operate the lever and arm the firing pin. The arm has a linkage having notches co-operating with the catch and a heel (17) co-operating with the lever.
