Abstract (en)

[origin: WO9946452A1] The invention relates to a device for cleaning a sewer or similar, especially a sewer-cleaning vehicle. The aim of the invention is to make the device as efficient as possible. To this end, a separating and cleaning device is provided. This separating and cleaning device takes up a mixture of dirt and water into the device whilst simultaneously discharging from the device sediments which have been separated off and cleaned.
