Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1068937A1] The cutting blade has a U-shaped angle with a first arm formed as the fastening part (32a) which is connected by an intermediate web (36a) to a second outer arm formed as a cutting part (34a). The fastening part is angled at the end facing the intermediate web. The angled arm can be formed on a side facing the cutting part through a section of a side edge of the fastening part which is curved concave relative to the fastening opening.
