Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1074393A1] Rollers (10,12,14) guide postal material through a franker (16) using a mobile table and cradle (22,24). If a blockage occurs a longitudinal member is initially displaced in the direction of transport and the lower rollers (12,14) are depressed through the action of a cam (262) and abutting toothed levers (26,28). If additional access is required the longitudinal member is moved further in the same direction to nearly withdraw all the lower rollers
