Abstract (en)
An undercarriage (1) for a table comprises at least two elongate profile elements (5) and a plurality of leg anchorages (3). The profile elements (5) include at least one longitudinal undercut groove (11). Each one of the leg anchorages (3) includes a rotary engagement member (9) for engagement in the undercut groove (11). Further, each one of the leg anchorages (3) includes at least one guide member (10) for guiding the leg anchorage (3) in the undercut groove (11) and for absorbing transversely directed forces. The rotary engagement member (9) is operable via an operating device (12) which is disposed inside the side surface of the leg anchorage (3). <IMAGE>
