Abstract (en)
[origin: EP1080673A2] The container or glass (10) has a drinking region (11) in which drink is provided when the glass is held in a drinking position. The glass has an inner element (20) with a smelling region (21) which can hold a portion of the drink. The smelling region is designed so as to enable the user to smell the drink while the glass is in the drinking position.
