Abstract (en)
[origin: WO9962385A1] A frame for framing pictures has frame sections (1) each having an external side wall (13) connecting a channel (14) for corner brackets on the back of the frame section with a visible front surface (15), which extends from the side wall towards a picture element (2) in the frame. A screen wall (10) extends from a holding lip (7) down past a supporting lip (9) to a bottom surface (11). A clear gap (16) between the front surface of the frame section and the screen wall is of a smaller width than the distance from the holding lip to the bottom surface.
