Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1083286A2] The lock (5) has a gear operated by a handle, with a locking rod (6) extending perpendicular to the handle axis. The locking rod fits in a groove and a free end (9) of the locking rod fits in an opening (10) in a counter lock part (7) on the frame (2) side. A hook mechanism is formed between the locking rod and the counter lock part. Preferably, the locking rod has a radial groove and a shoulder is formed in the opening of the counter lock part.
