Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1084819A2] The press has lower (1) and upper (2) press plates to guide continuous press bands (3,4) and an arrangement to form and maintain a lubricant film between facing press plate surfaces and their press bands. The press has high (10), medium (11) and low (12) pressure areas along its working length. A roller carpet (13) is arranged over the whole width and length of the input side high-pressure area between the press plates and their press bands.
