Abstract (en)
[origin: EP1086870A2] The coupling rod device has a coupling rod (3) on the pressure receiving side of a support bearing (2), with a straightening link pressure plate (4) and a roll-off curve (5). There is a traction rod (6) forming the end part of the coupling rod, which may be able to move along in the support bearing. The traction rod passes through the support bearing.
