Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1096075A2] The wall retainer is for the fixture of an installation frame (2) to a wall (3) and involves a screw (5) fitted to the frame and a wall angle (11) fitted to the upper end of the screw. The wall angle is pivotable around an axis running crossways to the longitudinal axis of the screw. On the screw a bearing part (8) is screwed and the wall angle is pivotably located on it. The bearing part is a rotary bolt. The wall angle is somewhat U-shaped in cross-section and has a bearing hole (13) in its two legs (12). The bearing part has at least one radially projecting mushroom-shaped bearing pin (10), on which the wall angle is located.
