Abstract (en)
[origin: DE19835906A1] The invention relates to a method for producing vinyl compounds, especially vinyl ether compounds, whereby amino vinyl compounds are reacted, while retaining their vinyl groups, with substances that react with said amino vinyl compounds. The invention also relates to vinyl compounds that can be produced according to said method, preparations containing said vinyl compounds, the use of said compounds and the use of amino vinyl compounds in the production of vinyl compounds.
