Abstract (en)
[origin: EP1103647A2] The filter device has a pot-shaped filter body held by a bearer structure with external and internal filter surfaces (18) and a sealing edge sealing the external filter surface to the filter housing for an air flow directed into the pot interior. The external and internal filter surfaces are each held by a stable shaped columnar bearer structure and with it form outer and inner bodies (16,17) that are connected near the bottom surfaces.
