Abstract (en)

[origin: FR2782407A1] The support has an adjustable plate (2) attached to the back (19) of the guitar, e.g. by suction cups (5) or hook and loop fastenings, a rigid holder (3) which projects from the plate, and a flexible strap (4). The strap is attached at one end to the plate while its other end is adjustable relative to the holder to form a curve which fits comfortably against the player's hip and abdomen. An Independent claim is included for a guitar with a shoulder strap or a double bass.
