Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1113109A2] The signal lamp has a light source (10) and an autonomous electrical supply unit employing at least 2 electric batteries, coupled via a bistable switch to an electronic control circuit for connecting the electrical supply unit to a signal lamp forming part of the light source, for providing 2 different light signals. The light source is incorporated in a warning triangle or a warning cone (16) providing a signal lamp housing enclosing the electrical supply unit.
