Abstract (en)
A one-piece toothbrush or other cleaning implement formed of plastics material by injection moulding comprises an elongate handle 10, a head 11 at one end of the handle and a group of at least thirty resiliently flexible bristles 12 of a small diameter extending from the head generally axially of the handle, the bristles 12 in the group being laterally spaced apart from each other. The cleaning implement is a one-piece member of injection moulded plastics material and as such is cheap to manufacture from waste plastics. <IMAGE>
