Abstract (en)
[origin: EP1118547A2] A stacked container array has at least a first and a second container (12,14) each having a closure (22) having a recess (24) on which a portion the other container is seated for nesting. The recess has a dimension that enables a portion of the upright standing side walls supporting the closed base to nest thereon with minimal translation movement. <IMAGE>
