Abstract (en)
[origin: EP1134768A1] An adapting member (30) grips protective equipment (10) by a hook and spindle busbars and may be joined to contactors (30) of varying size by the use of a hooking heel (35). The heel position may be adjusted horizontally to allow for contactors of different depth and alternative grooves (39,40) are available to grip contactor rims which are at different heights. .
