Abstract (en)
[origin: EP1136007A2] The inner shell (3) of the protection cap is divided into a central segment (15), protecting the top of the skull, two side areas (18,19), a front (16) and a back segment (17) by gaps (22,23), which facilitate the outer segments (16,17,18,19) to be bent in order to follow the individual shape of the head of the user. The outer shape (1,2) is designed like a baseball cap with a triangular gap (11) at the back. For adjusting the hem (6) is folded open, two strips (10), positioned beside the gap (11) are pulled into an overlapping position, fixed with strips of Velcro(RTM) (7,9), and the hem (6) is folded in again.
