Abstract (en)
[origin: EP1136011A1] Bracelet is made of hollow decorative elements (10) with a bottom (15) and a cover (13) linked by a central and two side ridges (16,18). The links (20,20a,20b) are made of two extending arms which can fit in between two adjacent ridges and have the axis bores (25,29,35,39) at the end of each extension. Around the axis bores are abutments (27,37) which cooperate between two links and stop them from rotating of more than a certain angle one relatively to the other.
