Abstract (en)
[origin: EP1136145A2] The device has a holder, placed on the panel (1) outside the concave dent, a traction element (7) moveable relative to the holder by an actuator, and an indicator device for the actual position of the element relative to the holder. The end of the element next to the panel holds an adhesive adapter (9). The holder has a relatively adjustable ring element (11) with three support feet (13). The actuator has a lever (14) hinged to the holder, which engages on a journal (18) of the traction element.
