Abstract (en)

[origin: WO0014001A2] A method for affixing appendixes (2) to objects by means of a rebondable adhesive (3), wherein an appendix (2) extends substantially in one plane, wherein appendixes (2) which are connected to an assembly (4) of appendixes (2) by means of said rebondable adhesive (3) are separated from said assembly (4) one by one in order to be affixed to an object. Two appendixes (2) to be successively separated are staggered in said assembly (4), in a direction parallel to said plane, so that an appendix (2) can be easily separated from said assembly (4).
