Abstract (en)
[origin: DE19904540A1] A bank note container for cash distributors comprising a bottom (12), two parallel side walls (14), a rear wall and a front wall (16), a cover (18) and a press-slider that can be moveably arranged in the lower part of the container (10), parallel to the side walls (14). A switch (52) that controls a display device is arranged on the press-slider, whereby the switching element (56) of said switch cooperates with a switch actuating path (58) that is arranged on the bottom (12) of the container and extends parallel to the direction in which the slider (22) is positioned and defines a switching point between two switching states corresponding to a position of the press-slider that signals the amounts remaining, whereby one state corresponds to a positioning path of the press-slider (22) between a final position close to the rear wall and a position signaling the amounts remaining and the other corresponds to the positioning path of the press-slider (22) between the position that signals the amounts remaining and a final position close to the front wall (16).
