Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1149554A2] A foot mat for use inside or outside, especially as a laminar construction for floor coverings, comprises numerous parallel profile elements which have brush, carpet strips and/or similar material on the surface. The profile elements (1) can be separated and their lower surfaces are located on the connection elements. The elements have a slip resistant lower surface (13). Holding bolts (14) locate in holes in adjacent profile elements.
