Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1149972A2] There is disclosed a device for fixing the anti-shoplifting hard tag to the stem of eyeglasses for sale. It comprises a single-block body (1) into which there are present two housings where there is inserted a threaded dowel (3) which, once screwed, locks the above body (1) to the eyeglasses stem. The device is characterised in that the upper portion of the body (1), which defines the first of the above two housings, is closed in its upper side (14) so as to obtain a slit (9) onto the same, that forms the keyhole of a lock inside which the key that allows screwing the cap (3) is introduced. <IMAGE>
