Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1152082A2] Clothes washing and drying machine having an oscillating tub (9) which is substantially formed by a cylindrical enclosure and a pair of vertical head pieces, and which encloses a single perforated drum (7) capable of being loaded from the top and rotating about a sensibly horizontal axis. One of said head pieces (10) consists substantially of a first portion (11) and a second portion (12) that are separably joined to each other so as to form, on the outside of the seat (30) provided for at least a bearing of the drum (7), a channel (28) for the drying air, in which there are accommodated all means (15, 22, 25, 29, 31) needed to create a flow of heated drying air in a closed-loop circuit through the rotating drum (7).
