Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1152194A1] The corner joint structure for an air conditioning appliance housing, and the like, has a corner piece (1) formed by three hollow profile or leg sections (3) generally at right angles to each other. They form a corner zone (7) which drops inwards from the corner, with holes to take fasteners (9) to lock the unit in a tight and sealed fit against the side edge profiles of the housing.
