Abstract (en)

[origin: DE19907544A1] The invention relates to an injector for an injection system of an internal combustion engine which comprises an injector head (1), a nozzle (13) for injecting fuel, a control unit for controlling the fuel transfer from the injector head (1) to the nozzle (13) and an actuator (6) for mechanically driving the control unit for controlling the fuel injection. An injector housing (2) is moulded to the injector head (1) in such a way that said injector housing (2) and said injector head (1) form one part. The injector housing accommodates at least the control unit.
