Abstract (en)
The clip (23) for the binding (11, 12) of a snowboard has a tip (25) which cooperates with grooves on the binding to fasten it against a bridge section (19). It is released by a release button (30) which disengages the tip. When the clip is released the button is moved vertically away from the binding (12) to a position where the handle (27) of the clip is closest to the bridge (19).
