Abstract (en)
[origin: EP1159887A1] The folding table has a carrier arm (15) mounted at the table leg (5) so that, when the table top (1) is moved from the working to the stowed position, the foot lever section (7) is wholly or partially swung with it. The carrier arm has or is a part of the two-part locking mechanism, where both parts lie against each other without play when the table top is in the working setting.
