Abstract (en)
[origin: EP1162325A2] The tarpaulin roof cover has a tarpaulin attached to a profiled connection unit (24) through fixings which can be screwed or hammered into the solid profile unit. The profiled connection unit is fitted detachably on the upper tie (16) of the roof binders which are mounted parallel spaced from each other on a support structure (22) and are supported by side support units. The side support units are detachably connected to the profiled connector unit through further connectors (28).
