Abstract (en)

A freestanding support for information posters has upper and lower horizontal bars (26, 29) splayed apart by pairs of flexible struts (44, 46, 48, 50) at their ends. The struts are telescopic, or can be made into different lengths by adding separate sections. The information posters are looped over the horizontal supports and are tensioned by the elastic struts. The bottom support is fitted with legs for a freestanding structure.
