Abstract (en)

[origin: EP1164247A2] The profiled cladding (7) has two arms (10,11) including between them an obtuse angle. The edge of one arm (10) has a bent holder-lug (12) gripping round a back-tapered part (13) of a window casement or door-leaf (1). The other arm (11) has support elements (14) for keeping it apart from the leaf/casement frame. A strip (15) of elastic material is inserted between the edge of one arm near the holder-lug and a glass pane (4) inserted into the leaf/casement frame.
